This command can be used in conjunction with `--encrypt` (for signed and encrypted message), `"L"` for local or non-exported signature (see `--lsign-key`), `. gss` to check certificates and `--no-ssl` to check that no certificates are being used. `--ssl-error-list` command returns information about errors in certificates. When using `--no-ssl` this option can be useful when you are testing an SSL connection. To do this, you need to put the `--no-ssl` command at the end of the command line, after all the options. When using an SSL connection that does not use certificates (HTTPS, for example), the `--no-ssl` command cannot be executed.
