Vitrea Report Cd Viewer Fix

since all of the images are on the same server, radiant dicom viewer can easily be configured as the "home" viewer for the vitrea view workflow. this way, users can access them from any client, web, mobile or desktop pc. radiant dicom viewer is embedded in the vitrea view client. this makes the viewer available in one click and makes the view, navigation, resizing and panning of images as simple as possible. all of these features are also available when radiant dicom viewer is used as the default viewer for images that are stored in vitrea view. radiant dicom viewer can be used as a stand-alone viewer for dicom images and a viewer for non-dicom images. it can display jpeg or bmp (uncompressed) images and wmv (windows media video) movies. in addition to the radiant dicom viewer it can also be used to view dicom files stored in other dicom applications, such as pacs (picture archiving and communication systems) systems, non-dicom archives such as the zip and rar formats, non-dicom archives such as the jpeg and bmp formats, and also the html format. in most cases, you do not need to install any other viewers. the mpr tool provided within radiant dicom viewer can be used to reconstruct images in orthogonal planes (coronal, sagittal, axial or oblique, depending on what the base image plane is). this can help to create a new perception of the anatomy that was not possible to visualize using the base images alone. the reconstruction process is extremely fast: a coronal series can be created from more than 2000 axial ct slices in approximately three seconds (on a modern intel core i7 system).
